UD ROESCH LIBRARY EXHIBIT TO FEATURE BANNED BOOKS

DAYTON, Ohio — The University of Dayton's Roesch Library will hold an exhibit of banned books, notable quotes on the First Amendment and excerpts from First Amendment court cases from Sept. 14 to Oct. 3 in the first floor exhibition area. The exhibit is free and open to the public.

Books that have been banned at one time or another include versions of the Bible, Alice's Adventures in Wonderland, Of Mice and Men, To Kill a Mockingbird, Catcher in the Rye and The Adventures of Huckleberry Finn. Groups have sought to ban books for reasons that range from incorrect grammar to ethnic stereotyping. Banned Books Week, designed to raise public awareness of the dangers to society of censorship, is Sept. 26 to Oct. 3.

UD's Roesch Library is open 8 a.m. to midnight Monday through Thursday, 8 a.m. to 10 p.m. Friday, 10 a.m. to 6 p.m. Saturday and noon to midnight Sunday. For more information, call (513) 229-4221.
